1 Introduction

State the purpose of the memo, the intended audience, and the scope. Cite literature where relevant, for example Jansky [1933]. Replace or add to this reference with a paper that is relevant to the memo. This sentence includes an example footnote[1] to show how notes are styled in the template.

2 Context and Scope

Use this optional section only if separate background or scope definition is useful.

3 Main Discussion

Use this section for the core material of the memo. Replace the example subsections with headings that fit the actual content.

3.1 Topic 1

Add the first main topic here.

3.2 Topic 2

Add the second main topic here.

4 Conclusions and Recommendations

Summarise the key outcome of the memo and any recommendations or decisions.
